Hostalric town

Listed as an Cultural Asset of National Interest, the town of Hostalric is one of the major monumental sites of medieval Catalonia, and is presided over by an imposing 18th century military fortress.

Our offer is focused on promote our architectural heritage. Guided tours are one of the most requested services. It is possible to go on a guided tour around the castle or around the medieval quarters. But complementary activities can also be offered to enjoy the local gastronomy through tastings.

If you want to do an activity that does not appear in the catalog, do not hesitate to propose it and we will study the feasibility of making you a tailor-made offer.

Hostalric castle

Located on a top of an old volcano, the ancient medieval castle of the Viscounts of Cabrera maintained control over the Royal road, half way between Girona and Barcelona. From the XVII century the castle began to be transformed to adapt to the new times and the new defense strategies of the modern era.

Doing the guided tour of the castle, it is possible to see different areas of the fortress and the Interpretation Centre, with two audiovisual areas and a model. During the visit, the local guides explain the spaces and uses of their buildings and the most emblematic historical events in the history of the castle.

The walled precinct

The medieval site of Hostalric offers corners full of history and uniqueness. The spectacular wall stretches up to 600 meters and along its route you can find ten exceptionally well-preserved medieval towers. One of the most outstanding is the Torre dels Frares, with a splendid viewpoint at the top and accessible to all types of groups, as it has a lift.

Doing the guided tour for the medieval site, it is possible to access to the top of the wall and to climb to the Ararà tower. After passing through the Barcelona door, you can also enter at the Relliguer cave. The visit ends at the Friars tower, climbing to the spectacular viewpoint.

Hostalric tastings

The Domus - Can Llena, also the building of the tourism office, is a space where you can have different types of gastronomic tastings made by local businesses in order to complement guided tours of the town.

From here there are excellent views of the Hostalric castle, the orchard area, the Tordera river and the medieval site.

Choose the option that appeals to you most:
